A Historic HOLIDAY TOUR

HOBCAW BARONY &
KAMINSKI HOUSE MUSEUM

GEORGETOWN, SC

Tuesday,
December 22nd

$125
per person

Let's celebrate the season by visiting two historic properties in Georgetown, SC! Join me on a tour of Hobcaw Barony – the 16,000-acre coastal estate that was purchased in 1905 by New York financier Bernard Baruch. Though Bernard was Jewish, his wife Anne was Episcopalian, and the family made celebrating Christmas at their South Carolina winter home a cherished tradition. The historic Hobcaw House will be decorated using native greenery by the Georgetown Garden Club.

After lunch in Georgetown, we will visit the Kaminski House Museum with its beautifully decorated historic rooms. All its rooms decked out in glitz and glamour for the holidays! Constructed circa 1769, the Kaminski House Museum was home to many prominent Georgetown residents. The home's pre-Revolutionary architectural details are an elegant background to the varied interiors that help bring to life Harold and Julia Pyatt Kaminski, the home's last residents.
